Examining Indigenous Agency in the

1. The Province: Develop a technical document at the provincial level to guide Indigenous engagement, thereby elaborating upon the ways by which the PPS policies on this subject are to be interpreted.
2. Municipalities: Enrich policy language in official plan documents to allow for input from Indigenous groups not considered to be the key Indigenous group designated for engagement.
3. Municipalities: Improve online municipal development application interfaces so they clearly identify whether an archaeological assessment is required for a site, and if it has been performed where required.
4. The Province: Mandate Indigenous engagement at Stage 1 of archaeological assessments where the site is believed to have significant Indigenous archaeological resources.
5. The Ontario Professional Planners Institute: Make Indigenous engagement training a mandatory requirement for planning certification (RPP) in Ontario.
