

PSYC 241: Syllabus

Term Dates

Term: January 9 – April 7, 2017

Examination: April 13 - April 27, 2017

Course Description

The study of social psychology is a fascinating field, certainly one that readily applies to our lives. In this course, I will provide you with a general overview of research and theory in social psychology, based on classic and contemporary findings from the social psychological literature. This course is research-oriented. You will also learn about the scientific methods used by researchers in social psychology to conduct valid research.

Prerequisites: PSYC 100

Learning Outcomes

After completing PSYC 241, students will :

1. Explain the scientific theories underlying phenomena such as social judgment, prejudice, group influence, altruism, and aggression.
2. Explain how individual difference variables and situational factors interact to predict cognition and behavior.
3. Draw connections between social psychological theories and everyday life, applying these theories to real-world problems.

3 Written application assignments

You must pass the final exam to pass the course

All assignments and learning activities will be graded by the teaching team, using detailed marking rubrics in line with established marking practice.

Interactive Discussion Forums

Each week, you will be responsible for completing an interactive video lesson. There are check-point questions within these videos, they are designed to check your understanding of course material but are not graded. You are responsible for knowing the information within these lessons as it may appear on your midterm and/or final exam. During weeks 3, 5, 7, 9, 10 and 11; you will participate in a small group discussion related to the interactive lessons and readings and these discussions are marked.

Written Application Assignments

You will be assigned three papers that will give you the opportunity to apply what you have learned in the course. Please note that we will be enforcing a very strict word limit on these papers (500 words maximum). Each written assignment is worth 5%.

Midterm Test covered in weeks 1-5

The midterm will cover course material including readings, interactive lessons, chapter videos, and discussions from Modules 1-5.

The marking for the midterm test is as follows:

30 multiple choice questions, @ 0.5 mark= 15 marks

Proctored Final Exam

The Final Exam will cover course material including interactive lessons, chapter videos, and discussions from Modules 1-12.

The marking for the Final Exam is as follows

Part A. Twenty multiple choice questions, @ 1 mark= 20 marks

Part B. Ten short answer questions @ 2 marks = 20 marks

Part C. Two short essay questions worth 5 marks = 10 marks

Late Policy

Each of the three short assignments are worth 5 marks. The late penalty is 1 mark out of 5 for each day late.

Communication

We will reply to legitimate email inquiries from students within a reasonable timeframe (typically within 24 hours). Please ensure that you include the course number (PSYC 241) in the subject line. Make sure you consult the course outline/syllabus and other online documents/handouts before submitting inquiries by email. Also note that some servers (such as hotmail) can be unreliable in both sending and receiving messages. For this reason, it is recommended that students send e-mail using their Queen's e-mail account. If you haven't heard from us within a reasonable time, please send a reminder email. Note that emails sent on the weekends or late at night may not get a response until the next business day.

Office Hours

On-campus students: Wednesdays 2:30 - 3:30 in Craine Hall room 303

Distance students: Telephone office hours by appointment

Netiquette

Students Traveling Overseas

For students who will be out of Canada for the duration of the term, please note that we have had instances in the past where certain Web sites that are required to complete the online courses, including onQ, have been blocked intermittently in some countries (e.g. China). If the course you enroll in requires the completion of online quizzes or exams, this may pose an impediment to you successfully completing the course. We do not make accommodations based on the lack of reliable Internet access. It is your responsibility to make sure that you will have adequate high speed Internet coverage for the entirety of the term.

Grading Method

All components of this course will receive numerical percentage marks. The final grade you receive for the course will be derived by converting your numerical course average to a letter grade according to Queen's Official Grade Conversion Scale:

Queen's Official Grade Conversion Scale

Grade	Numerical Course Average (Range)
A+	90-

D	53-56
D-	50-52
F	49 and below

Exam Information

Once the exam schedule has been finalized, the exam date will be posted on your SOLUS account. Students living in the Kingston area will write their final exam on Queen's campus. Students writing off campus will receive an email to their Queen's email account with full details of date/time/location of their exam. Please note: off campus exams will be held on the same day as Kingston exams, but the start time may vary slightly due to the requirements of the off-campus exam centre.

When you registered for the course, you indicated the exam centre location. If you do not remember the exam location you chose, or if you wish to change your exam location, please email: CDSExams@queensu.ca or call 613-533-3322. The deadline for changing your exam centre can be found at http://www.queensu.ca/artsci_online/current-students/dates-and-deadlines. You must request the change prior to this deadline or you will be subject to a non-refundable administrative fee of $100.00 per exam.

All special needs students should contact CDS, immediately following registration to inform them of any special accommodations which may be required for proctored exams.

For further information regarding exams, see: http://www.queensu.ca/artsci_online/current-students/exams

Location and Timing of Final Examinations

As noted in Academic Regulation 8.2.1, "the final examination in any class offered in a term or session (including Summer Term) must be written on the campus on which it was taken, at the end of the appropriate term or session at the time scheduled by the Examinations Office." The exam period is listed in the key dates prior to the start of the academic year in the Faculty of Arts

The material on this website is copyrighted and is for the sole use of students registered in PSYC 241. The material on this website may be downloaded for a registered student's personal use, but shall not be distributed or disseminated to anyone other than students registered in PSYC 241. Failure to abide by these conditions is a breach of copyright, and may also constitute a breach of academic integrity under the University Senate's Academic Integrity Policy Statement.

Accessibility/Accommodation

Queen's University is committed to achieving full accessibility for persons with disabilities. Part of this commitment includes arranging academic accommodations for students with disabilities to ensure they have an equitable opportunity to participate in all of their academic activities.

If you are a student with a disability and think you may need accommodations, you are strongly encouraged to contact the Queen's Student Accessibility Services (QSAS) and register as early as possible. For more information, including important deadlines, please visit the QSAS website at: <http://www.queensu.ca/studentwellness/accessibility-services/>

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is constituted by the six core fundamental values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect, responsibility, and courage (see www.academicintegrity.org).

These values are central to the building, nurturing and sustaining of an academic community in which all members of the community will thrive. Adherence to the values expressed through academic integrity forms a foundation for the "freedom of inquiry and exchange of ideas" essential to the intellectual life of the University.

Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the regulations concerning academic integrity and for ensuring that their assignments conform to the principles of academic integrity. Information on academic integrity is available in the Arts and Science Calendar (see Academic Regulation 1), on the Arts and Science website (see <http://www.queensu.ca/artsci/students-at-queens/academic-calendar>), and from the instructor of this course. For current policy updates visit: <http://www.queensu.ca/artsci/students-at-queens/academic-integrity>

Departures from academic integrity include plagiarism, use of unauthorized materials, facilitation, forgery and falsification, and are antithetical to the development of an academic community at Queen's. Given the seriousness of these matters, actions which contravene the regulation on academic integrity carry sanctions that can range from a warning or the loss of grades on an assignment to the failure of a course to a requirement to withdraw from the university.
