

TEACHING POSITION AVAILABLE Winter 2022
RELS 201 Religion and Empire
School of Religion

The School of Religion at Queen's University invites applications from suitably qualified candidates interested in teaching an undergraduate course in Religion and Empire (RELS 201). This is an on-campus, upper level lecture course with an expected enrolment of ~50 students. The class is scheduled for Tuesdays 11:30-1:00 and Fridays 1:00-2:30.

Candidates should have a Ph.D, and teaching experience at the University level in Religious Studies. This is a winter term appointment for the period January 1, 2022 to April 30, 2022, with classes in session from January 10 to April 8.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's is strongly committed to employment equity, diversity, and inclusion in the workplace and encourages applications from Black, racialized/visible minority and Indigenous/Aboriginal people, women, persons with disabilities, and 2SLGBTQ+ persons. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant's accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during this process, please contact: Levanna Schönwandt, in The School of Religion, at school.of.religion@queensu.ca or 613-533-2109.

The academic staff at Queen's University are governed by the Collective Agreement between the Queen's University Faculty Association (QUFA) and the University, which is posted at <http://www.queensu.ca/facultyrelations/faculty-librarians-and-archivists/queens-qufa-collective-agreement>.

To comply with Federal laws, the University is obliged to gather statistical information about how many applicants for each job vacancy are Canadian citizens / permanent residents of Canada. Applicants need not identify their cou
